WELCOME TO THE WORLD OF tiSsi®

These six words are full of heart and soul. With our range of children's furniture, we want to make families' lives safer and more beautiful.

We love to put a smile on the faces of dads, moms, grandmas, grandpas, bonus dads, bonus moms and of course children every day with our products.

But who are we? My name is Matthias Oster, managing director of M.J. Oster GmbH. First and foremost we are a family business, and as the name suggests, "Family" comes first with us - for the seventh generation running now. We work as a family for families in order to be as close as possible to our customers, large and small.

In a "family company," the choice of brand name is of course no coincidence. This is also true for our brand name tiSsi: We've all heard a child's first attempts to pronounce various names. My younger sister Anna always called me "Tissi" because she had trouble pronouncing "Matthias." This touching and positive memory became the namesake for our successful children's furniture brand.

It is important to us to unleash every individual child's potential for self-development in an environment that is tailored to it. It is us, the adults, who help children through our own and shared interactions, to lead a life that is as self-fulfilling and imaginative as possible. That's why it's particularly important to care for them and let them participate in everyday life. Our loving world of tiSsi children's furniture is created with this in mind.

We want to continue to support families for generations and hope you enjoy browsing through our newest catalog.

With love,

Matthias Oster

FOR LITTLE EXPLORERS

THE LEARNING TOWER THAT GROWS WITH YOUR CHILD

PRACTICAL:

Everything is so much easier to practice with the tiSsi® learning tower: Whether baking cakes, preparing soup or washing hands and brushing teeth. Your child is always at eye level with you.

ALWAYS FITS:

Whether at a kitchen worktop, dining table or sink: Thanks to the 3-setting height adjustment, the tower can fit in anywhere.

Safety and the use of ecologically sound materials are our top priorities in the production of the tiSsi® range, as the wellbeing of your child is our main concern.

Safety and quality are top priorities in the manufacture of tiSsi® products. We completely avoid any substances that could cause harm.

The tiSsi® learning tower can be perfectly adjusted to your child's height in just a few simple steps.

The learning tower is a practical aid for everyday life with children, offering an especially safe platform to stand on and sufficient freedom of movement for children aged about 1-6 years.

We attach great importance to the fact that the learning tower is only used when the child can stand independently and safely. So we cannot give a general age for use. Our children are all different, and each little miracle develops at their own pace.

LIFE-LONG

THE STEP HIGHCHAIR - A LOYAL COMPANION FOR A LIFETIME

PRACTICAL:

With the step highchair from tiSsi®, your little one can sit at the table early on and learn important social interactions. With our newborn attachment you can bring your child up to your eye level from the first day.

ALWAYS FITS:

Thanks to its unique S shape, the step highchair fits at any table, providing a comfortable and ergonomic seat for children from around 6 months.

The tiSsi® step highchair raises your child to the optimal sitting position and offers additional tip protection - for kids who like to push themselves away from the table.

The matching newborn attachment enables eye contact and provides a great opportunity to spend valuable time together and strengthen bonding. Your baby is held comfortably in the ergonomically shaped seat. The 2-way tilt adjustment makes it possible to feed them comfortably and safely and without straining their back in the highchair.

OUR PROMISE FOR MORE SUSTAINABILITY

Environmental protection has gained massively in importance in recent years with a view to our and the Earth's future. Since becoming a father of three children, environmental aspects have become even more important for me. Children are our future and should be able to live carefree on a healthy planet Earth. To ensure this, more and more people are searching for alternatives that give them a clear conscience, but consistent quality and a good price-performance ratio. Companies like ours are also increasingly expected to care about environmental protection and sustainability.

The topic of sustainability has also become more important at tiSsi. Although we paid attention to resource-saving production right from the beginning of our company – and we are now in our seventh generation – we still see more options for improved sustainability.

NO PLASTIC PACKAGING

We're all familiar with this: No matter how good a product is, in most cases it's generously packaged with standard plastic packaging. This often useless packaging is particularly harmful to our environment. Of course, product sustainability is an initial step towards improving our planet, but our environmental awareness can't just stop with the transport or packaging of the goods. Our "tiSsi – Plastic Free" label is particularly important to us because it immediately shows what is important to our company. We are obliged to pack tiSsi mattresses and fitted sheets with plastic for hygiene reasons. But we are already working diligently on solutions so we can offer an alternative here too. However, for the sake of the environment, we don't use plastic packaging for all of our other products.

MINIMIZING AND OPTIMIZING TRANSPORT ROUTES

Our product materials also have a major influence on sustainability. We've consciously decided to purchase raw materials primarily in Europe. Our transport routes should also be kept to a minimum and only be as long as absolutely necessary. Of course, it would be more cost-effective from a business perspective if we sourced goods outside of Europe. But this creates unnecessarily long transport routes, which are literally poison for our environment and absolutely avoidable. The wood that we source from neighboring European countries is of the highest quality. The trees are always from certified forest stands that ensure the sustainability.

We use many electric vehicles for transport and set a good example here. Another step towards sustainability is that we always have all plastic parts, such as castors and fittings, manufactured in Germany. This allows tiSsi to guarantee environmentally sound production.

WE WANT TO IMPROVE EVERY DAY

Wherever we have the choice, we will always choose the better, more environmentally friendly variant of delivery, material, production and shipping.

In addition to sustainability, tiSsi stands for quality, aesthetically pleasing products and excellent customer service. Because: Family Starts with Us.
